Free Drinking Water Access in Universitas Sriwijaya

Water is the main human need for survival and is used in daily life, for example as drinking water. To fulfil the need for drinking water on campus, Universitas Sriwijaya (UNSRI) provides free access to drinking water for teaching and education staff. The provision of drinking water is budgeted through each work unit within UNSRI. The free drinking water can also be accessed by students or guests of UNSRI who need it. The drinking water provided has met the drinking water standards set by the government.
